

Summer Camp: Day four, 29th May 2014

Dare to Dream

Only those who dare to fail greatly can ever achieve greatly.

-Robert Kennedy

The fourth day of the summer camp was regulated by Mr. Ajay Dixit. He started the session by a brief introduction of each of the students. He then moved on to the topic of problem solving attitude. He said that people have different attitudes of looking at things differently, he then showed the students a presentation about 'Daring attitude', and advised the students to inculcate it and push their limits and bring forth change. He asked the students to give their 100% and set their altitude by such daring attitude.

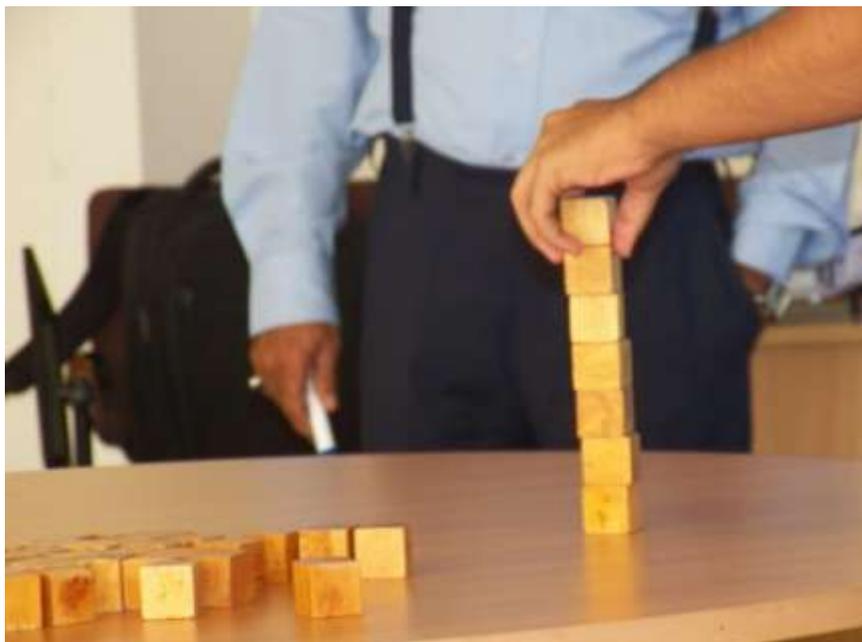

Set high Goals

Obstacles are those frightful things you see when you take your eyes off your goal.

Henry Ford

The next session was started by talking about Developed and Developing countries. Mr. Dixit explained the difference between the two types and various factors that make a country developed. He then listed the golden rules such as ethics, Integrity, responsibility, respects to laws, punctuality and many more which lead to success and thereby overall development.

The students were then engaged into playing a Tower building game in which they were asked to set a target of building a tower out of cubes and many constraints were laid upon them such as blindfolding them and using their non-functional hand. The students were also asked to predict their scores and then their actual scores were compared with the predicted ones. This game enabled the students an ability to know their strengths and their capacity to perform under pressure. These attributes are extremely necessary for being a successful entrepreneur.

Effective Communication

The ABC's are attitude, behavior and communication skills.

-Gerald Chertavian

The next session had all the students gripped into concentration developing exercise and communication skills building. Each of the students were given different case studies and were asked to talk about various factors that made the case extraordinary according to them. The students expressed their views and with great confidence and creativity. This exercise helped them to fortify their communication skills.
